

NHS Wales Digital Mental Health Support (SilverCloud®) Space for Perinatal Wellbeing – Key Messages Spring 2023

Context

- People often talk about the positive emotions they experience during pregnancy and the first year of being a parent, but less about the emotional challenges they experience, despite these being just as common.
- New and expectant parents and carers often experience problems with their sleep, wellbeing, and mood. Around 1 in 5 women and 1 in 10 men will develop a mental health concern during the perinatal period (1-3).
- Looking after your wellbeing is an essential part of being a parent. When you feel balanced and calm, you worry less, have more energy, sleep better, and feel more confident in handling the challenges of life.
- Having access to mental health and wellbeing support during the perinatal period can help people to improve their overall wellbeing and identification of potential concerns that may require further support.

Key Messages

- People living in Wales or registered with a GP in Wales can access SilverCloud® online guided self-help programmes free via NHS Wales. Using techniques based on Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), SilverCloud® programmes can help people to manage mental health concerns and improve wellbeing
- A new programme is available:
 - Space for Perinatal Wellbeing can help parents and carers improve wellbeing during pregnancy and the first year after having a child; build skills to manage symptoms of anxiety and depression; learn to reflect on your mental health, discover ways to reduce tension and worry (WHAT'S NEW?).
- This programme is for:
 - New parents and parents-to-be, those adopting a child, and surrogates
 - People who are experiencing (or may be at risk of experiencing) mild-to-moderate symptoms of depression and/or anxiety during the perinatal period. (WHO IS IT FOR?):
- Understand how thoughts, feelings and behaviours are linked, and learn how to make positive changes that will improve wellbeing in ways that suit your lifestyle (WHAT WILL I LEARN?)

- Complete a programme over 12 weeks; for best results engage with the programme for 15-20 minutes, 3-4 times a week. Access activities and interactive tools and receive regular feedback and guidance from a qualified SilverCloud® Supporter. (WHAT TO EXPECT).
- No need to be referred by your GP – sign up online and access your programme anytime, anywhere on your smartphone, tablet or desktop computer (HOW?)
- Find out more and sign up: <https://nhswales.silvercloudhealth.com/signup/> (CALL TO ACTION)
- Space for Perinatal Wellbeing is based on techniques from Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), an evidence-based therapy that works by encouraging people to challenge the way they think, feel and behave (ABOUT CBT).
